News Release

06/17/2016

On Thursday June 16th at the Bergen County Police Academy graduation ceremony, Officers Sean Hubbard and Dan Rosendahl were presented with the Honorable Service Award by the Bergen County Police Chiefs Association. This award is given to an officer for performing a creditable act in the line of duty, which is unusual in nature and which shows initiative and accomplishment.

On June 27, 2015 Officers Hubbard and Rosendahl were called to a business on Pearl Court in response to a man who was threatening co-workers with knives. The officers first assured the workers' safety and then talked to the man, who was standing over them on a loading dock. After some time, the officers convinced him to throw down the knives. Once he was disarmed, the man struggled with the officers before they were able to handcuff him.

The man was taken to Bergen Regional Medical Center for evaluation. He was charged with many weapons and assault offenses.
